

Faith Baptist Church

Midweek Service

April 29, 2020

There seems to be some “light at the end of the tunnel” for the church family to worship together once again! Yes, for while there will be some things that we will do a little differently. There are steps that we must take cautiously and with wisdom. We want to please the Lord and also be conscious of the need to be good citizens.

It is difficult to know exactly what and how things should be done at times. We must continue to trust the Lord and move as He leads. As of now, we are meeting to discuss the best approach to get back to “normal.”

We hear much about a “new normal.” I am sure that for a while there will be some things that will call for patience and adjustment, but we must let the Church be the Church. It is essential, and we must not let this battle be won by Satan. Hopefully, in a few days we will have some recommendations to consider.

We may need to move forward in phases one step at a time. The Lord willing, the adjustments won't last very long. May we be a better people and a better church because of going through this trial. Silver has to be heated to burn off dross. God is purifying His Church. Amen!

CHILDREN'S CHURCH will be live streamed beginning this coming Saturday morning from 10:00-10:45!!! Go to the Faith Kids Sunday School page on Facebook to join us!
